

THE WAR DAY BY DAY

Fifty Years Ago.

April 22, 1864—Lieut. Gen. Grant reviewed the Second Corps of the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men, and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock—Regiments that Won Distinction.

Written Expressly for The Herald.

Fifty years ago today Lieut. Gen. Grant reviewed the Second Corps of the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

The review of the Second Corps formed a fitting finale of Grant's making his official acquaintance with the Army of the Potomac, which embraced more than 40,000 men and was commanded by Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock.

CAPTAIN BLAMED FOR WRECK.

Sammy Berry, Commander of Nantucket, Responsible for Collision.

Capt. Sammy Berry, of the Merchants and Miners' steamship Nantucket, is held responsible for the ramming of the Old Dominion steamship, Monday off the Virginia Capes, January 30, last, as a result of which the Monroe was sunk and forty-one lives lost. The responsibility was fixed as the result of the investigation made by steamboat inspectors and approved by Capt. Henry M. Seelye, supervising steamboat inspection service at New York, and now finally approved by Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce.

WAR TALK STIRS SUFFRAGE DANCE

Through at Willard to Help Pay Campaign for Ballot Right.

LARGE SUM IS RAISED

Jack London and Miss Beatty Carry Off Silver Award in Competitive Dance.

War news last night sent a thrill through a big crowd of fashionable men and women who tangoed and one-stepped for suffrage for the first time at the Willard. Each newcomer brought the latest news from the front, and a shudder and then back to the dance.

It was the first suffrage ball ever held in the Capital and drew a crowd of about 500 people. Among them were a few diplomats and a number of army and navy officers and their wives. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, of the Supreme Court, came early and stayed fairly late.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, one of the leading patronesses of the affair, with Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union, received all the guests. The Congressional Union got up the ball and the dancing was in full swing.

After the troops passed, the officers proceeded to Brig. Gen. A. S. Webb's headquarters. Here they witnessed the war-worn veterans in the same regiments, the smallest numbered as 402 men, which in the earlier days of the republic would have been considered an army in numbers.

The four division commanders under the new organization were Brig. Gen. Francis C. Barlow, who had distinguished himself in the first day's fighting at Gettysburg and was wounded there when leading a brigade of the Eleventh Corps; Brig. Gen. John Gibbon, who had led a division of the Second Corps at Gettysburg and had commanded the corps after Hancock was wounded; Maj. Gen. David B. Birney, who led a division of the Third Corps in the great battle, and Brig. Gen. Gerson M. Scott, who led a brigade of the Second Corps at Chancellorsville and was severely wounded there.

March in Night Sounded.

The Second Corps was favored by the weather on the day of its review. A hot period of storm had passed. The day was bright and sunny, the ground was nearly dry, and there was an odor of early blossoms in the air.

The corps met at having attained its full strength, and many men being on duty, about 2,000 turned out for the review.

The soldiers shouldered their arms at morning with the vivacity of schoolboys at for a spring holiday. They showed in their bearing that they were among the stout and most intelligent troops ever gathered for a review. Furthermore, they were eager to see their new commander, of whom they had heard much.

The review was held on a gently rolling plain near the headquarters of the Second Corps, about two miles from Brandy Station. The ground was admirably adapted to such a review, as the entire mass of troops could be seen at a single sweep of the eye from the elevated position chosen for the reviewing officers.

In the early forenoon the corps formed in a great mass, described as "in division lines of battalions, with the colors in front, the artillery on the right of the First Division, and the Third Division of Cavalry, numbering about 4,000 men, on the right of the artillery. The transportation of the corps, numbering more than 1,000 wagons and ambulances, all with their teams in the best condition, was displayed in an adjacent field.

The mere presence of such great force with its equipments of war, standing immobile in the open country, was in itself deeply impressive.

In Magnificent Array.

The troops were displayed in magnificent array," wrote a correspondent who witnessed the review, "forming four imposing lines of battle, when Lieut. Gen. Grant, accompanied by a brilliant crowd of officers, rode on the ground." A first thought of many of the soldiers who here saw Grant for the first time, was that he was the least striking figure among the officers who came upon the field. It was seen, however, that he was a superb horseman and that he watched the troops with a penetrating gaze that seemed to embrace every detail of their appearance down to the buttons on their uniforms.

As Gen. Grant was met by Gen. Meade and his staff, the two generals then rode to where Maj. Gen. Hancock, surrounded by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

The moment he gave the order all the troops changed direction by the flank and immediately the whole of the immense command was marching in review by a staff that seemed more splendid in its brilliant uniforms than either Grant or Meade's, was waiting to receive them. It was Gen. Hancock's first public appearance since his command since his recovery from his Gettysburg wound.

Hancock greeted his superiors with a salute that seemed to those of his admirers who watched him a model of grace and gallant bearing, and then rode off to give the order that was to set his corps in motion.

READY FOR SESSIONS ON CHILD WELFARE

Chairmen of Various Committees of Congress Hold Preliminary Meetings.

PROMINENT WOMEN ARRIVE

Preliminary meetings of chairmen of various committees marked the opening of the third International Congress on the Welfare of the Child yesterday afternoon at the Raleigh. The convention will begin its sessions this evening at the same place.

The presidents of the State organizations met with the chairmen, formulated policies, and discussed general business. Mrs. Frederick Schuch, Philadelphia, president of the congress, is here to preside. The delegates hope to visit many homes and schools, parent-teachers, and mothers' organizations here. Members of the national board of managers gave a dinner last evening at the Raleigh.

Presidents of State congresses here are: Alabama—Mrs. W. J. Chambers, Montgomery; Arizona—Mrs. J. C. Norton, Phoenix; California—Mrs. H. N. Russell, Berkeley; Colorado—Mrs. F. Dick, Denver; Connecticut—Mrs. B. L. Matt, New York; Florida—Mrs. George W. Marshall, Miami; Georgia—Mrs. N. Russell, Tallahassee; Idaho—Mrs. L. P. Doty, Boise; Illinois—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Chicago; Indiana—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Indianapolis; Iowa—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Des Moines; Kansas—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Topeka; Kentucky—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Louisville; Louisiana—Mrs. J. P. Doty, New Orleans; Maine—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Portland; Massachusetts—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Boston; Michigan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Detroit; Minnesota—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Minneapolis; Missouri—Mrs. J. P. Doty, St. Louis; Montana—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Helena; Nebraska—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Omaha; Nevada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Reno; New Hampshire—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Concord; New Jersey—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Newark; New Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santa Fe; New York—Mrs. J. P. Doty, New York; North Carolina—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Raleigh; North Dakota—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bismarck; Ohio—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Cleveland; Oklahoma—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oklahoma City; Oregon—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Portland; Pennsylvania—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Philadelphia; Rhode Island—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Providence; South Carolina—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Charleston; South Dakota—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Pierre; Tennessee—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Nashville; Texas—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Austin; Utah—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Salt Lake City; Vermont—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Montpelier; Virginia—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Richmond; Washington—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Seattle; Wisconsin—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Milwaukee; Wyoming—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Cheyenne.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Budapest; Italy—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rome; Japan—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Tokyo; Mexico—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Mexico City; Norway—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Oslo; Sweden—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Stockholm; Switzerland—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Bern; United Kingdom—Mrs. J. P. Doty, London.

The following organizations in foreign lands are also here: Argentine Republic—Mrs. Abel Rosendi, Buenos Aires; Brazil—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Rio de Janeiro; Canada—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Toronto; Chile—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Santiago; Cuba—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Havana; Denmark—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Copenhagen; France—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Paris; Germany—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Berlin; Greece—Mrs. J. P. Doty, Athens; Hungary—Mrs. J. P. Dot